Sherwood Comedy Chosen As Drama Club Presentation

"The Queen's Husband" Is Play to Be Produced at Wardman Next Month

"The Queen's Husband," Robert Sherwood's romantic comedy, which enjoyed long and successful runs in New York, Chicago, and on the road, has been selected by the George Washington University Drama Club for its production next month at the Wardman Park Little Theatre.

Frank Westbrook, Ada Green, Amanda Chittum, and Karl Gay will have the leading parts in the play, it was determined at the tryouts, which were held last Thursday. It has not yet been definitely determined who will fill the minor roles, but announcement will be made in the near future.

"The Queen's Husband" is by the same author who wrote "The Road to Rome," in which Jane Cowl starred for some time. It is the story of a henpecked king in a mythical kingdom and bears close resemblance to happenings in a certain Balkan state in recent years. Besides being an excellent vehicle for comedy, it relates the love affair of a princess of the royal house and, of course, contains the usual revolution.

Wardman Park Hotel will again be the scene of the Drama Club production. This year, however, it will be given much earlier in the year, current plans calling for performances during the week before Thanksgiving.

Miss Constance Brown, lecturer on play production in the University, will direct the play. Miss Brown is a graduate of Cornell University, and has spent a year abroad studying under Max Reinhardt. Phyllis Mills, president of the Drama Club, will act as production manager of "The Queen's Husband."

Copy For Colonial Review Due Oct. 16

All Interested in Writing Are Urged to Contribute Poems, Stories, Plays, Essays

October 16 is the dead line for material to be used in the first issue of The Colonial Review. The staff of this monthly literary supplement of The Hatchet urges all who are interested in writing to contribute. Literary work of the following types can be used: short stories, poetry, book reviews, short plays, and essays, both formal and informal.

Nearly everyone has a desire to write and the literary supplement provides the opportunity to see your name in print as an author. Those who prefer to remain anonymous may use fictitious names or initials. However, the name and college classification of the author must accompany the manuscript in that case.

Copy should be prepared as for a newspaper: typewritten, and double-spaced. If a student wishes to have a manuscript returned, this will be done upon his request. The copy box is behind the telephone booth at the back door of Corcoran Hall. Turn in a manuscript by Friday!

Plans Formulated For Student Band

Organization Expected To Have Many Attractive Inducements

Plans for the organization of a student band are well under way, according to Ted Rinehart, member of the Student Council, who is formulating and directing the plans for the creation of the first George Washington University band.

At the present time the whole project is in the embryonic stage, but much is expected of it in the future and it is quite possible that the band will be present at the game with Butler University. However, to achieve the success that is desired by Rinehart and his associates, the student body must support the organization by coming to the tryouts for positions. Everyone who is able to play a band instrument is urged to be present at the tryouts, the date and time of which will be announced in next week's Hatchet.

Numerous advantages and benefits are expected to be enjoyed by members of the band, if the organization shows signs of being a permanent one. Coach Pixlee has assured those in charge that if the project is a success the band will accompany the football team on at least one of their trips and possibly all of them. Everything will be done to secure funds to provide suitable uniforms for the members, when the band is organized.

Freshman Women Urged To Attend Panel Lectures

Speakers Representing Sororities on Campus Will Explain Rushing Regulations

Panhellenic Council will sponsor a series of lectures on sororities and sorority rushing for the benefit of freshman women. The lectures are scheduled at 12:15 Corcoran Hall 24, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 15, 16 and 17.

The speakers, representing various sororities on the campus, will explain the rushing rules at George Washington, and try to outline a few of the points upon which the choice of a sorority should be based.

This information is important for all freshman women interested in sororities. Attendance of all is strongly urged.

Glee Club Records To Be Distributed

Phonographic Impressions of
Two Contest Numbers
Now on Sale

The George Washington University Glee Club announces the distribution and sale of the phonograph record which was produced last summer by the RCA Victor Company. A limited number of the records is now available at the Bursar's Office and at Droop's, 1800 G Street.

Each record bears the impression of two of the songs with which the club has just won its renown: "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming," by Michael Praetorius, and "Benedictus," from Gounod's "St. Cecilia Mass," with the solo sung by Grace Eubie Harmon. The former was the choice song used by the glee club when it won the 1930 at Carnegie Hall, New York City.

The making of the record was the outgrowth of a desire on the part of those connected with the club that the work of what is considered the finest choral unit ever developed at the University might not be forgotten in future years. The songs used were chosen as best illustrating the planisimo singing for which the club is noted. The record, produced by the Victor electric process, would be a valued addition to any musical library.

Another record was made at the same time at the request of the athletic department of the University, which wishes the students to become more familiar with university songs. On one side are the "Alma Mater" and the "Buff and Blue," on the other the ever-popular sea-chantey, "Old Man Noah," as arranged by Marshall Bartholomew, conductor of the glee club at Yale University. This record will not be available for distribution until the receipts from the first record are sufficient to finance it.

Women's Glee Club Conducts Rehearsal

Students Interested in Choral Work Invited to Join Group

The evening unit of the Women's Glee Club will conduct its first rehearsal Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m., in Corcoran Hall 29. Students interested in choral work, who have not yet been able to attend a rehearsal, are invited to join the group immediately.

A large number of students have reported for the Saturday groups. Next Saturday, October 17, at 12:15, in Corcoran Hall, Room 29, will be the last opportunity for day unit tryouts. A list of those chosen for membership in the club will be published in next week's Hatchet.

Seventeen students reported at the first meeting of the evening group, all having voices of good quality, but numerically the group is not strong enough to continue as a separate unit. A minimum number of 30 voices has been set for this new evening group, and unless this goal is attained there will be only one rehearsal a week as there was last year. It has not yet been decided whether this rehearsal will be in the evening or on Saturday at 12:15 p. m.

Women's Rifle

Applications for the positions of assistant managers of Women's Rifle may be made in the office of the Women's Physical Education Department. Applicants must state previous experience in rifle, program of courses, address, and phone number. Practice starts November 3, and will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday each week from 12 to 3. Members of last year's varsity will find the range open if they wish to practice before November 3.

Trials for Specialty Numbers in Show Also Scheduled for This Week

Further chorus try-outs for the Troubadour show will be held Tuesday, October 13, and Thursday, October 15, at 12 noon in Corcoran Hall 10. It was announced at the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the Troubadours held in The Hatchet office, Friday night October 9.

There will be opportunity for specialty numbers in the show this year. Trials will be held in Corcoran Hall 10, October 16, at 8 p. m.

Christine Spignul, dancing director, announced that fifty aspirants for chorus work had reported at the first trials held Thursday, October 8, but that no permanent choruses were picked. They will not be selected until after the try-outs scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday of this week have been held. All those who were unable to report last Thursday, should come on either of those days. Rehearsals will begin immediately.

Casting Starts Soon
Preliminary casting will begin Thursday, October 20, at 8 p. m. in Corcoran Hall 10, under the direction of Dennis Connell. There are sixteen cast parts in this year's show and several "extras."

In order to give those interested some idea of the nature of the parts, "Society" Kennedy has announced that in addition to the usual straight roles, of a manly hero, two very sweet co-eds, and a soubrette, the cast included char-

Catholic Club Dance To Be Given Oct. 14

Invitations Sent 600 Catholic Students and Alumni

Plans for the first meeting of the Newman Club on Wednesday, October 14, in Corcoran Hall 10, have been extended to include an informal dance to be given under the direction of the membership committee. Genevieve Wimsatt, chairman of the committee, states that invitations have been sent out to over 600 Catholic students and alumni.

Other members of the committee are Minnie Asmuth, Richard Sullivan, Mary Anna King, William Fay, Wilbur McAllan, Agnes O'Brien, Robert Phelps, Robert Austin, Dudley Aud, Raymond Makari, Katherine Upton, Marie Sullivan, Eugene Jansen, Margaret Floecker, Elizabeth Kehoe, Gladys Thomas and Mary Flaherty. The chaperones will include the Rev. Dr. John K. Cartwright, chaplain of the Newman Club, Miss Louise McGuire, of the faculty of the National Catholic School of Social Service, and Mr. and Mrs. William Tardiff.

On Sunday afternoon, October 18, members of the Newman Club and their Catholic associates in the University will be guests of the faculty and student body of the National Catholic School of Social Service, 2400 19th St. N. W., at tea between 4:30 and 6:00 o'clock.

Library Science to Hold Student Council Elections

Elections to the Student Council from the Division of Science will be held in the front room of the Lambie Building, 714 Twenty-first street, on Wednesday, October 14, between 4:30 and 6 p. m.

Margaret Evans is the only candidate among the several nominated found to be eligible for election.

Gigantic Pep Rally Thursday Evening

Meeting to Be in Yard at 7
P. M.; Coach Pixlee and Team Captain to Talk

A gigantic pep rally, larger than any ever planned before at G. W., will be held Thursday at 7 p. m. in the College yard as a forerunner to the varsity contest with Tulsa Friday night.

Jerry Stickler is in charge of the meeting, which will be short and to the point, but designed to put the finishing touches on the spirit, which has been growing during the past few weeks. Coach Pixlee will be on hand and will say a few words as to the prospects of the game. The Colonial who is to be captain of the team for the game will be with Coach Pixlee and will also give a short talk.

A cheering section for 500 people is to be reserved in the center stands for the game Friday. To get in this section it will be necessary to be at the pep rally. The pledges of the different fraternities will be in this section also, so be sure you get to the rally so you will be allowed in that section.

Radio programs are being arranged to advertise the game. Jerry Stickler has already procured station WJVS and is trying to get station WMAL. These programs will be on in the early evening, both Thursday and Friday, and it is hoped to have the coaches of the two teams speak. The school song, "The Buff and the Blue," is to be sung on these programs also.

Lack of cooperation has been a sore spot in the cheering at all games so far this year so get down to the big rally on Thursday and learn the cheers. Then make it evident at the game on Friday night with unified cheering.

Council Dispatches "Rushing" Circulars

Committees and Rules Being Made to Regulate Contingencies

With the approach of the sorority "rush" season the Panhellenic Council is busy forming committees and rules to cover any possible contingency that may arise. This year the council will send circulars to all freshman women, giving them the "rush" rules by mail. In addition, there will again be Freshman Education, delegates from the different sororities speaking to the freshmen.

There will be absolutely no "rushing" by sororities until October 18, and no association off campus. Campus limits include G and H streets, from Twentieth to Twenty-first streets, i. e., the University buildings, Quigley's Drug Store, and the Food Shop.

All sororities are advised to follow these rules closely, as there will be heavy penalties for any disobedience.

Tulsa's Golden Hurricane Expected To Furnish Greatest Grid Encounter Of Season At Stadium Friday Night

George Washington Team Will Seek Fourth Straight Victory in Contest With Lighter But Powerful Eleven
From Oklahoma

The Golden Hurricane of Tulsa University will meet the George Washington Colonials Friday night at 8 in Griffith Stadium in what is expected to be the hardest game of the year for the home team. Tulsa will boast the strongest eleven it has had in recent years. The Colonials will present their best combination of the last few years which has so far been victorious in the first three games, holding their opponents scoreless.

Men's Debate Team Chosen At Tryouts

Ronald and Gilby Will Represent
G. W. in International
Event on October 30

At the tryouts which were held Monday, October 5, for the men who will represent George Washington University in the debate with the two Universities of England, Ralph Gilby and James Ronald were chosen. The English team will be composed of Stuart Craig of Nottingham University and John Needham of Durham University.

Ronald and Gilby will uphold the negative of the proposal: Resolved, That the sole provides a better method of solving the unemployment problem than does the charity system.

The debate will be held at the University on the evening of October 30.

Oratorical Contest Date Is Announced

Freshman Women Urged to Compete in Contest on December 4

Freshman women are urged to compete in the oratorical contest sponsored by Sigma Delta Phi, honorary forensic fraternity for women, to be held in Corcoran Hall, on December 4, at 8 p. m. All women taking nine hours' work, or having completed not more than 30 hours' work are eligible.

Subjects may be chosen by the contestants, and each speech is to be ten minutes in length. Manuscripts must be turned in to the Public Speaking Office no later than November 20, and the chosen speakers will be notified on November 23.

The winner will receive a silver cup, and the runners-up honorable mention. There will be three judges, Professor Willard Hayes Yeager, of the Public Speaking Department, and two others who will be announced later. Further information may be obtained from the Public Speaking Department.

Glider Club Seeks Soaring Locations

Sites Discussed by Prof. Johnson at Year's First Meeting

The G. W. U. Glider Club is looking for a nice high mountain and a good stiff breeze, as well as a soaring place.

At the first meeting this year Professor A. F. Johnson, of the Engineering School, discussed the possibilities of obtaining a soaring plane, preferably a Franklin Glider, and locating a site which might be suitable for soaring. He suggested Point of Rocks, Md., as a likely spot, but Dr. Glenn Elliott, of the Congressional Airport, thought that the ground on the top of this mountain would be too rough, and that there were not enough landing places at the foot of the hill.

The number of new members who were present was not sufficient to warrant an investment in a soaring plane at the present time, but it is thought that several new men will be in attendance at the next meeting.

In the meantime club officers are scouring the country in search of a high point of land with a plateau large enough for an auto tow launching. The ideal spot would be a bowl with sides several hundred feet high. If such a place is found there is a possibility of breaking some of the existing glider records, such as altitude, cross-country, or duration.

Any one of the six club members who hold Department of Commerce glider licenses is capable of piloting sail planes, and a great deal of enjoyment and flying will be theirs if present plans materialize.

The G. W. U. has been successful so far this season in defeating Shenandoah, Elon and Boston Universities, running up a total of 110 points to their opponents' nothing. The line-up for each game has been strengthened with the return of those injured in the early part of the season. Penlon, Carlin and Galloway got in the Boston game, adding much to the strength of the squad. That the team returned from Boston with no injuries means that the full squad will be ready for action in the game Friday night.

"Gloomy Gus" Henderson, head coach of the Tulsa squad, will bring his strongest team in several years in hopes of repeating the victory of last year. Coach Henderson, formerly of California, has one of the most impressive win records of the middle west. Six of the men on the victorious team of last year are on it again this year and are leading their teammates on to victory so far this season.

Tulsa Also Has Won Three

The Golden Hurricane has downed Hendrix College, Texas Christian and Oklahoma Baptist in their games so far, amassing a large total of points to opponents' nothing. The victory over Texas Christian was rather outstanding as the latter institution has a strong aggregation. Downing the Baptists gave the Others a start in the Big Four Conference of Oklahoma which they have won the past two years and are expected to repeat again this year. Running off their first seven games last season with wins and then dropping

Liberal Club Plans Extensive Program For Coming Season

Many Prominent Speakers Scheduled to Address Club on Topics of Varied Interest

The Liberal Club of George Washington University, which began its 1931-32 schedule with a lecture by Maoro Baradi, on October 7, has arranged an extensive program for the current semester. Many prominent speakers will address members and friends of the club at the several meetings to be held at Corcoran Hall. On October 21, Dr. Paul Renno Heyl, physicist at the Bureau of Standards since 1920, will give an address on the subject: "The Place of Reason in Nature." Dr. Heyl is the author of many scientific works, including "Common Sense of the Theory of Relativity," published in 1925.

Dr. James A. Ryan, an economist of note and professor at Catholic University, will talk on November 4, probably on the subject of unemployment insurance.

Dr. Freeman Scheduled

On November 18, Dr. Walter Freeman is scheduled to give an illustrated talk on "Second Childhood." Dr. Freeman, who is now working at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, will use slides and motion pictures to better present his speech. No speaker has yet been secured for December 2, but if one is billed for that day, an announcement will be made.

Students of economics and government will be interested in a talk dated for December 16 by Mr. Judson King, of the Municipal Ownership League, on the power question. Mr. King, a noted lecturer and writer on political and economic subjects, will probably speak on "The Hoover Committee on Muscle Shoals."

Dr. Jesse W. Sprowls of the University of Maryland, well-known psychologist, who conducts a daily column in the Evening Star, entitled "Everyday Psychology," will speak on "Cognito Ergo Sum," or "I think, therefore I exist." This will take place on January 6.

The last talk for the first semester will be by Dr. Boris Stern, of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, who will speak on "Technological Displacement," with particular reference to the amusement industry.

Students of the University and friends, as well as the faculty, are cordially invited to attend any or all of these lectures. There is no admission charge.

YOU KNOW THE OLD story about the young man who went out to get a job.

He had little trouble getting into the offices of the big shots. But he had less trouble getting out.

He had a record of good scholarship in college to recommend him, but when an executive asked him, "What activities were you interested in at college?" his answer was, "None. I was too busy." And again when an executive asked, "What business experience have you had?" the young man's answer was the same.

Here's an opportunity to kill two birds with one stone. Drop around to The Hatchet Business Office, first floor of Building Y, and let us show you how to do it. We won't promise to make you into a big business man or woman right off the reel, but we do offer some valuable experience which may count heavily when you go after a job. Come in and file your application for the Business Staff now. First floor, back office, Building Y, 715 Twenty-first St.

Before It Is Too Late

(The Hatchet regrets exceedingly that the events of the past three weeks force it to reopen a subject which it had hoped would be effectively dealt with as a result of the advice made public in its editorial of May 27.)

Once again it is only too apparent that the Student Council of George Washington University is settling into the lethargy which has almost always characterized its existence. And because this is a regrettable fact The Hatchet feels it incumbent on itself as the organ of campus opinion to call to the attention of every student in the University a situation which may soon become a matter for nothing but laughter.

Although there are many newcomers on this campus who are unaware of its existence, the fact is that we do have a Student Council which, however, is famous chiefly for what it has failed to do. It will be appreciated that a failure to accomplish anything is no basis for undergraduate confidence, yet it is most obvious to The Hatchet that nothing is being done to overcome this lack of confidence. So important is the Council as at present constituted, that if it were to close up shop and cease to be known as an entity, there would be absolutely no change in the condition of our undergraduate life. This is a deplorable situation which should be remedied by the abolition of the Student Council or (much to be preferred) the injection into it of some life blood in the form of administration.

There are some who have wrongly interpreted the constructive criticism which The Hatchet has offered the Student Council. It has been given in a spirit of earnestness and desire to advise the Council how to best secure the good will and admiration of the student body.

On May 27 The Hatchet warned the Student Council that it must immediately adopt ironclad election rules, lest there be a recurrence of last year's farces. So far there has been no evidence that such rules have been adopted. Yet the Council is holding an election this week to fill the vacancy from the Division of Library Science.

That which is most interesting from the technical viewpoint, however, is that the Council is operating without full membership and seemingly no effort is being made to fill the places made vacant by the advancement of four members from Junior College into other divisions of the University and from Columbian College into the Law School. Is the Student Council conducting its deliberations without full representation from certain of the schools of the University or are certain members illegally serving on it?

Whatever be the facts in this matter, so long as the University officials permit the Student Council to operate as the ranking student organization the students on this campus have a right to know if the administration of the Council is legal and is being carried on for the furtherance of student confidence.

So far there has been no attempt on the part of the Council to acquaint the student body with any of its activities, if there have been such. The Hatchet is the organ of campus news and is always open to legitimate publicity which is presented in a co-operative spirit, and the Council may avail itself of this medium of self-expression at any and all times.

You Are Expected At The Game

When Coach Pixlee's undefeated gridmen tackle Tulsa University Friday night at Griffith Stadium, backers of the Colonials will be treated to a contest rare in the sporting annals of this institution. Both teams have amassed an enviable total of points against their opponents, and both have yet to be scored upon. Without question, this will be the biggest home game of the season for the Buff and Blue eleven.

The question is: What are you going to do about it? Every chance is yours to demonstrate your support of this fighting team. Classes will be finished for the day and it will not be necessary to hurry from the game in order to avoid the ire of a professor. The contest itself will not take up your entire evening, although it will furnish a full evening's enjoyment.

Further exhortation is necessary! If this battle of two powerful unbeaten elevens is not sufficient attraction for your athletic ticket, your loyalty is questionable.

On Other Campuses

Beloit College trustees announced during the registration period that meat, potatoes, eggs, fruit, chickens, and vegetables would be accepted in payment of tuition fees. The move recalled to the minds of oldtimers the custom during the eighties when wagon loads of grain and livestock often were brought in and traded for an education.

Boarding house keepers catering to the University of Kentucky students prefer boys to girls. Girls, they say, leave rings around the bathtubs, burn too many lights late into the night, wear out the plush on the divans too quickly, despise common food, leave too many bottles lying around, and strew cigarette ashes on the rugs. Their only redeeming quality is that they do not use as many cuspidors as the boys.

One hundred nineteen Purdue University students became suddenly ill after eating tainted food in Cary Hall, a dormitory. An emergency call was sent to hospitals, but the supply of ambulances was inadequate and a score of private automobiles were pressed into service. It was believed that prompt treatment prevented any deaths, physicians saying that the students will recover.

CHIPS

Whoops, my dear!!! My boy friend went Bu Nu Phu. And they're just the class of the campus, I mean back yard. Now all I have to do is to convince Phu Nu Bu I'm a chaste and sweet little thing and then my beau lover and I can fold up and collapse on the sofa. My dear, I think this rushing is just too thrilling!!!

Well, that lousy ordeal is over again. Now I can settle down and get plenty tight, and stay that way. I won't have to crack a smile in front of Quigley's all the time, and maybe that Sloan's Liniment will do my overshot arm some good.

And there you have the low down on both sides of this racket—and before you start throwing ancient eggs, just remember Dick Rollo has been through the mill from time immemorial, and he knows. So that, darlings, is why I didn't go a frat. But the funny thing about it, you know, is that not many of those fellows gave me a hand!!! Can you imagine such crust!

We wonder what became of the ancient and honorable order of Green Dragons during the rush scramble. It is whispered that they are getting sober on their own liquor.

Yale locks can't be put on Harvard doors, but many a Phu pin is on a Nu legacy this week.

Rollo notices that the Boston papers think quite a lot of our convict, I mean Colonial, gridiron machine. We now have a mighty total of 110 points to a whole lot of nothing for our opponents. And believe you me that is something to sit up and give the boys a hand about. Bring on your Golden Tornado, we'll send 'em back bluer than blue!

The baby Colonials came thru with a high scoring game, too. At the slaughter we heard a kid ask its maternal side-kick, "Mummy, what are those great big boys picking on those little boys for?"

Does anybody know the rascal who hooked my girl at the last rush dance on Saturday night? Bring her back, you cat, you rascal, you!!

Have you ever noticed that these big bouncing babies who go in for physical training make a very punk showing at a social brawl? It is rumored that Weitzel is arranging the staff of our scandal sheet so that physical trainers will not write society, and vice versa. What a man! I call that efficiency plus. We're in for better times, by heck! Maybe Chips will be given its true value. Now ask me what that is.

The Troubadours are now laboring under the impression that they're going to give us an eyeful of feminine pulchritude when the show opens, but I've heard that after last year's shocking display of limbs in the birthday attire, mothers have raised their hands in holy horror. One would assume, therefore, that this year's styles will be decidedly long faced. "After all, my daughter, I send you to school, and I'll have you know you can't display your limbs. Use your talents for better monetary benefit."

"Gloomy Gus" Henderson is a fitting name for Tulsa's head coach, but we've noticed that these gloomy coaches are generally just making a face. If ever a couple of teams were evenly matched we would say these two machines were. Out of the tangle, you can pick your Dick Rollo up with a shovel, 'cause I'm going to be playing All-American full-back—or maybe it will only be half a back. It all depends on my feminine persuasion. High-Ho girls!

Buy yourself a record!! And this is a record what a record! We've played that Glee Club record fore and aft and upside down, and it pleases us immensely. Let's buy the first record and then we can have the second one by Christmas, maybe. And we want that second record 'cause this Alma Mater is a knockout, and this is one way to let the world know it. More power to you, Mr. Glee Club!!

When we get our large and spacious quarters in the old Women's building, your little Dick will be able to give you the low down on plenty of things. Maybe those walls over there can talk—we hope they can, don't you?

Little Rollo wonders if we can persuade Prexy to have a nice little pond placed in the middle of Martha Washington's garden. It would be simply delightful to skate on the frozen glistening surface in the winter. And how we'd love to see the spills! It would serve as a very convenient place to spill bum chemical solutions, also.

With the advent of winter (?) we find a large amount of frozen brain straying around the campus. Maybe youse freshmen can use that, as a convenient excuse for the prof, but we upperclassmen know better than to thaw out the brain cells even for an excuse. Just take it on the chin without knowing it, and hope for an early spring.

Coach Pixlee's "Rhythm Machine" was discovered to be a periodic sounding of the horn on his chariot, but we claim it was the foghorn Sexton uses to encourage his freshmen. Jean has such a pleasant nature, devoid of caustic wit, so he has to use artificial means for inspiration.

If and when we do get a loud and noisy pep meeting we want you fraternities to unfold your blushing pledges to the public gaze, and concentrate them into one long yowl for dear old Gee Double Yeeow. And reserve a couple of seats for Dicky so we can yelp, too. Sickler, I want you to do a

World News

By JAMES H. COBERLY

The bright star of prominence hung over Washington last week. Herbert Hoover forced even the sensational Pepper Martin into one column with the announcement of his plan for ending the depression. The State Department was kept busy drafting notes to Japan and China. Social, diplomatic, and political Washington was laying plans for the visit of M. Laval. Abroad, two leaders faced the end of their careers. MacDonald, in England, preparing for a general election and Brüning, in Germany, attempting to form a new cabinet in which no one wanted a place. Hanging as a sort of pall over these happenings was the untimely death of Senator Morrow, in Washington.

Not since three months ago when "moratorium" became as popular as "depression" has such a flurry been raised as that created Monday in Washington. Cloaked in secrecy, the controls of both parties began collecting in the Capitol the first of the week. It was learned that the President had issued a call for a meeting Tuesday night, but the purpose remained hidden. At the same time it became known that 15 of the leading bankers of the country had conferred with the President the day before. Then, about midnight, Hoover issued a statement to the press. It was nothing less than a plan of immediate action to relieve the financial situation of the country. A $5,000,000 corporation was to be formed by the bankers to aid those insolvent because of ineligible paper and appropriate legislation was proposed which would aid materially the general conditions throughout the nation.

Immediate action was obtained. By Saturday, the huge corporation was formed. Led by Governor George L. Harrison, of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, the funds were subscribed and articles of incorporation for a National Credit Corporation were ready to be filed in Delaware. It was to be capitalized at $12,000,000—twelve shares of $1,000 each to be held by the representative in each district set up along the lines of the Federal Reserve system.

The balance of the program, endorsed by the leaders of both parties, included:

1. New eligibility of paper for rediscount by Federal Reserve Banks.
  2. Approximate doubling of capital of Federal Land Banks.
  3. Creation of a 1931 model of the War Finance Committee, if necessary to reinforce the banks' revolving fund.
- The plan has been generally approved. The huge pool will rediscount that paper which has tied up the assets of the banks and should liberate so-called frozen assets—the panacea of American bankers for the past year. This latter has been due to withdrawals and the resulting loss of confidence. And, incidentally, the huge increase in Postal Savings deposits has done nothing to relieve the situation.

Inevitable in such proceedings was a discussion of further extension of the moratorium and the problem of foreign debts. The President stated that he was waiting the arrival of M. Laval, of France, before coming to any decision on these matters. He did not favor cancellation. While agreeing that an extension might be necessary, he urged the curbing of further loans to foreign debtors. It is his intention to make those countries who can pay, but admit that something will have to be devised when they cannot.

The visit of Laval gains significance daily. It will indeed be a busy time for the Frenchman. Elaborate social functions have been discouraged, but a great deal of bustle attends his arrival. He is free to discuss all topics (Continued on Page 6, Col. 2) double flip for the benefit of the fens present.

We heard a very delightful story of an enterprising freshman who worked the racket of going around to all the fraternity functions on his own initiative, and of the fraternity which pledged him. Now you little scandal hunters try and find out the who and what of that!

Pan-Hellenic instruction courses are being sponsored for all the little freshmen. After the new buds learn what it's all about, we'll come around and give them a break. It's distressing to date a girl who is not up on her knows—the fences break down too easily.

The Glider Club is up in the air again. Now it can't even find a landing site. We wonder how it managed to get up at all.

See you at the game—and don't forget to take along a date. These nights are chilly.

Varsity Gridmen Beat Boston U. In Great Battle

Terriers Present Stubborn Defense For Two Periods

Kriemelmeyer, Carter Break Through in Second Half— Score 14-0

After pounding Boston University's gallantly fighting team for two periods last Saturday at Nickerson Field, Boston, Mass., the George Washington gridmen finally broke through for two touchdowns in the last half, making the final score 14 to 0.

It was a seemingly impregnable defense that the Terriers presented the Colonials for the first half of the game, but the concentrated attack of the visitors so weakened the Boston team that they gave way twice before what was characterized as one of the most powerful aggregations that has visited Nickerson Field in the past three years.

The plunging devastating rushes of the forward wall of George Washington smashed holes in the Terriers' line through which a set of fast, flashy backs plunged continually. The knife-

Physical Aptitude Tests To Be Given This Week

Aptitude tests for all freshman and sophomore men taking physical education will be given this week in the gymnasium in order to classify them in groups for special gymnasium classes and intramural sports.

Sports this year will be volleyball, touchball, and basketball. The tests will consist of chinning, balancing, running, jumping, and walking a line. The men will be classified into upper, middle, and lower groups and the lower the group a man is in the more physical education he will be required to take.

like thrusts and open field running of Joe Carter were stupendous, his spurts off tackle and runs around ends accounting for much of the yardage gained by G. W. U.

Score in Third Period
Lee Carlin, Johnny Doyle, and Kriemelmeyer were also plunging through these openings created by the line in a manner also equal in brilliance to that of Carter's. "Soapy" Fenlon, who has been on the sick list for the past few weeks, accounted for quite a few yards in his speedy flash-like dashes, while Tony Matia was an important factor in the scoring of one of the touchdowns, tossing a pass to Carter, who galloped across the goal line for the count.

The first score was in the third period when G. W. U. obtained the ball on Boston's 3-yard line, through a penalty for interfering with the receiver of a forward pass. The Bostonian defense was so desperate that it took three Colonial drives to send the ball over the stripe. On the third plunge Otto Kriemelmeyer successfully touched the leather over the line. Fenlon tossed a pass to Carter, accounting for the extra point.

In the closing minutes of the game George Washington scored again from the 8-yard mark, Tony Matia passing to Joe Carter, who romped across the double stripe for the second touchdown. Carter passed to Clarke for the point.

Colonial Threat Constant
A play-by-play analysis of the game reveals that the Colonials were threatening the Terriers' goal at all times throughout the contest, and only a spirited defense such as the Boston men put up would have held as long as they did. Seven times did this valiant New England team withstand onslaughts within the shadow of their goal posts. Boston University was unsuccessful in driving towards G. W. U.'s goal for a lengthy period at any time during the afternoon. Numerous times the Colonials would advance to within the 10 or 15 yard mark and then be held for down by the fighting Terriers.

However, the game as a whole was entirely George Washington's. Coach Pixlee again made good use of his strong reserve power, evidently saving all of his men for the Tulsa game on Friday.

Sport Axe

By GORDON V. POTTER

It's coming Friday night at 8:00 p. m. in the Griffith Stadium—that game with Tulsa University—the "Golden Hurricane" from the southwest. This tussle which is considered the hardest game on the Colonials' schedule is being prepared for by the coaches, the student body, the cheer leaders, and just about everyone who is in any way connected with George Washington University.

Tulsa University has not had its goal line crossed yet this season and last Saturday whipped Oklahoma Baptist to the tune of 24 to 0. Its win over Texas Christian by a score of 13 to 0 two weeks ago was an ominous indication of the power of the "Golden Hurricane."

Like-wise our own gridmen have not yet had their last stripe crossed, and the meeting of two teams not yet scored upon will indeed be one of momentous interest. The game will be one of the best the student body and the whole city of Washington will see this season, for G. W. U. will be seeking to atone for the Tulsa victory of last year as well as to keep its slate clean. Tulsa will be endeavoring to keep its goal unsullied and roll up two defeats in a like number of years against George Washington University.

Although it is generally conceded that this contest will be an excellent one, it is not conceded that G. W. U. will emerge the victor and the team will need every bit of support that the student body can give. There are some who think that the players on the field do not appreciate a vociferous body of spectators, but a football team on the field of action is analogous to a troupe of players on the stage and the value of an appreciative audience cannot be underestimated.

The Colonial forward wall is achieving notoriety. From the newspaper accounts of the Boston U. contest its power, aggressiveness, and ability to make large openings in the opposing line was the principal feature of the stories. Fortunately none of the stalwarts who make up this plunging group were injured and the line will be intact for the conflict with Tulsa U.

Not to be outdone by their mates Joe Carter, Doyle, Kriemelmeyer, Fenlon, Matia, Carlin, Parrish and Hoffman all took good advantage of the openings so conveniently created by the linesmen and galloped through for consistent gains. Joe Carter again created havoc by his high-stepping dashes off tackle and his marvelous running in the open field.

Our eight man backfield was in evidence at the Boston game; it is hoped that the "Golden Hurricane" will feel their thrusts and also the weight of our line.

Speaking of weight a comparison of the weights of the respective squads of G. W. U. and Tulsa U. shows that the Colonials outweigh the Oklahomaans by an average of 10 pounds to a man.

That amusing and versatile cartoonist of The Evening Star, Tom Doehrer, had better study his occupation just a wee bit more as his prediction, "Boston U. to lash the Colonials," was a sad mistake.

The threatened strike by the gridmen of Boston University against the policy of the coaches not giving aid or directing substitutions during the playing of a game accomplished its purpose, as the coaches were present at the contest between the Terriers and the Colonials and directed the game.

An interesting fact and a rather potent one was discovered in the

Frosh Beat Altoona In One-Sided Game

Biesada, Vandenberg, Knott, Strayer, and Trilling Look Good

Before a handful of unenthusiastic spectators vainly trying to glean a glimpse into future G. W. gridiron warfare, the freshmen won a "push-over" sort of victory from Altoona Apprentice School Saturday by a score of 45 to 0 in the Eastern High School stadium.

There was only one thing certain about Coach Sexton's team when the game was over and that was the fact that an individual by the name of "Casey" Biesada, will bear watching. Reason—"Casey's" several jaunts, of from 20 to 70 yards at a time, that netted three touchdowns and aided materially on another.

Least the impression be given that Biesada was the whole show, Vandenberg and Knott came in for their share of ball carrying, point scoring, and consequent laurels.

Christensen Streaks 60 Yards
The line looked good, too, and Christensen brought glory to himself by intercepting a pass and streaking down the field 60 yards for another touchdown.

In short, aided by a powerful looking line that tossed Altoona aside at will, Biesada, Vandenberg, Knott, Strayer, and Trilling ripped and tore, passed and plunged, slashed through tackle and cut around end for numerous touchdowns. And to add insult to injury they even kicked goals.

3,000 Convicts in College
Of over 5,000 inmates in San Quentin, Calif., state prison, 3,000 are taking advantage of their privilege of enrolling as extension students of the University of California without charge.

Saturday afternoon football scores. North Dakota U. beat South Dakota U. by a count of 52 to 0, and if you will remember last year South Dakota held G. W. U. to a tie score. The Colonials will engage North Dakota as the last game on the schedule.

The freshmen gridgers came through in a big way, piling up 45 points against Altoona Apprentice School's none, last Saturday. They'll be obliged to come through in even a bigger way next Saturday when they meet the yearling "Terrors" from Western Maryland.

In this day of depression, preservation takes a stronger hold. A machine has been installed at the University of California for the purpose of shining the shoes of the football squad. It is hoped that this process will lengthen the average life of the shoe. Soon they will be sending shoulder pads, jerseys, football pants to the cleaners.

Remember the big pep rally—Thursday night at 7 p. m.—before the game on Friday. Bether to get your spirits aroused, if necessary; if not, be there anyhow and get 'em aroused a wee bit more.

Tulsa's Golden Hurricane Expected To Furnish Greatest Grid Encounter Of Season At Stadium Friday Night

the last two contests gives them a rather impressive record.

Captain "Ish" Pilkington, all-state fullback, is Tulsa's biggest threat. This is his last year on the squad and he is bidding well to beat his last year's record as a ground gainer. He is said to be all that a fullback should be; a passer and kicker as well as a plunger. Little Billy Boehm, halfback, is one of the cleverest on the team. Only 148 pounds, he makes up for his light weight by being fast and a good broken field runner. Ed Dubie has been calling the plays for the Oilers for three years and it goes without saying that he generals the team throughout the entire game.

Tulsa Arrives Thursday
The Tulsa men will arrive here Thursday morning and will stay at the Willard. In the afternoon they will have an interview with President Hoover and have their picture taken with him. Thursday night the Oklahoma State Society will entertain the squad at a banquet and dance at Meridian Mansions. Coach Henderson will have about 35 men with him on the squad.

The average weight of the Hurricane team is 179 pounds as compared to 159 pounds for the Colonials. Both the line and the back field of the home team outweighs the opponents.

Little Colonials to Meet Western Maryland Frosh

The little Colonials will meet the Western Maryland freshmen next Saturday at Eastern Stadium. Western Maryland always has a strong aggregation and this year is no different from others. The G. W. Frosh, in their only game, trampled the Altoona Apprentice School under by a score of 45-0.

The Cubs squad has been narrowed down to twenty men, thereby lessening their prospects of winning Saturday. The backfield is in good condition, with seven good men to pick from. Biesada, Vandenberg, Trilling, and Knott showed up very well in the game last Saturday.

The Western Maryland Frosh delivered the only defeat to the 1921 Cubs, and vengeance should be in the blood of those in the contest Saturday. However, the Cubs will enter the game the underdogs.

Physical Education For Women Starts

Class Practices Regularly Scheduled For All Sports Units

Three hundred and ninety-one have enrolled this semester for participation in the fall sports offered by the women's physical education department. Hockey seems to be the most popular sport, with 138 candidates for the class teams, but soccer, with an enrollment of 122 is a close competitor.

Class practices in hockey, soccer and tennis are held at 11 and 2 o'clock every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Class teams will probably be chosen before November 7 when a sports day with Hood and Goucher colleges have been arranged. Since colleges have no soccer teams, an archery competition will round out the program. There will also be a sports day during November with American University, and the hockey teams will go to Harrisonburg State College for a regional hockey tournament.

Entries close today for the all-campus singles tennis tournament, of which the first games will probably be played Thursday or Friday. The inter-class tennis match is to begin November 14. Anyone entering must have had at least ten practices.

Catherine Pritchard has announced that there will be an open golf tournament, to be played off next month. Those wishing to enter are asked to add their names to the entry list on the bulletin board in Building K.

Semi-finals Reached In Interfrat Tennis

Sigma Chi and Sigma Nu Win in Their Leagues

Interfraternity tennis has progressed to the semi-final stage in League A with Sigma Chi and the Theta Delta's the remaining teams and with Sigma Nu the winner of League B. Sigma Chi defeated the Phi Sigs in the League A match 3 to 2, while the Sigma Nu's took the Kappa Sig's into camp by taking the three singles matches.

Sigma Chi was extended to triumph over the Phi Sigs in their match last Saturday. Bennett, number one for P. S. K., defeated Walker 6-0 and 6-0 in easy play. Kendrick, of Phi Sig, and Lockwood went three sets before the latter emerged the victor by scores of 1-6, 6-3, 6-4. Orblon, of Sigma Chi, and Jackson, of Phi Sig, also went three sets with the former coming out the victor. Walker and Johnson for Sigma Chi won from Bennett and Rice, 6-4, 6-4, and Lockwood and Orblon went three sets to win over Kendrick and Jackson by scores of 0-6, 7-5, and 6-1.

The Sigma Nu's took the three singles matches from the Kappa Sig's without seemingly extending themselves. Allen, playing at number one for Sigma Nu defeated Jones 6-3 and 6-4. Mitchell took Baldwin over 6-0 and 6-1, and Wells bested MacGregor at 6-3 and 7-5.

GIRLS Do Not Smoke Pipes

THE GIRLS haven't left us many of our masculine rights. They fly our airplanes, drive our cars, smoke our cigarettes—but they don't smoke our pipes! They've left us this one manly right, anyway.

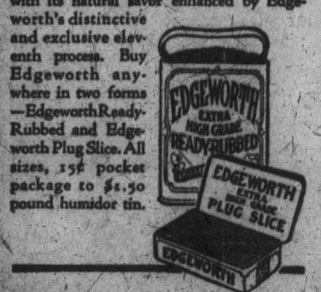

A man almost has to smoke a pipe nowadays. A pleasant necessity! For a pipe filled with good tobacco is just about the best smoke a man could want.

And if you're troubled about selecting a tobacco, remember that Edgeworth is the popular favorite in 42 out of 54 colleges. It somehow seems to fit the college man's taste. Edgeworth is cut especially for pipes, it burns slowly, it gives a cool smoke. You can buy Edgeworth wherever good tobacco is sold. Or, for a special sample packet, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 100 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

For men only—the joys of a pipe.

Columbian Women Conduct Gathering In Lambie House

Chairmen and Committees Named in Business Meeting Following Tea

Columbian Women of The George Washington University held their opening meeting of the year on Tuesday afternoon at the Lambie House. Members were received by Mrs. William J. Mallory, the new president. Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, wife of the president of the University, presided at the tea table.

In calling the first meeting to order the president expressed her pleasure in heading Columbian Women for the coming year which is to be one of great importance in the history of the organization because of the Bicentennial celebration and Columbian Women's part therein.

Mrs. Mallory announced that Mrs. Marvin has accepted the honorary chairmanship, and Mrs. Joseph W. Cox, wife of Justice Cox, of the District Supreme Court, has accepted the active chairmanship of the hospitality committee. The members of this committee will have a function of particular consequence to perform this year as they will act as hostess for President Marvin to distinguished visitors who will come to the University during the Bicentennial.

Other Chairmen Announced

Other committee chairmanships announced are: Alumni Relations, Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr.; Auditing, Professor Florence Marie Meery; Constitution Revision, Mrs. D. E. Shute; Finance, Mrs. Arnold McNitt; House, Miss Frances C. Wolff; Life Membership, Mrs. William E. Chamberlin; Membership, Miss Margaret White; Press, Miss Marcelle LeMenger; Program, Miss Alice Hutchins; Scholarship, Mrs. William Carl Ruediger; University Relations, Mrs. William Cabell VanVleet; Vocational Opportunity, Professor Anna Pearl Cooper. Miss Bertha Frances Wolfe was announced as the organization's parliamentarian.

The reports of the chairmen of sections indicated that the activities of the year are well under way.

Mrs. Edgar William Woolard was elected chairman of the Literature Section at a meeting held October 1. The next meeting of this section will be held October 20 at 4:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Mallory.

Sports Section

The Sports Section, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Joseph H. Roe, will meet October 12, at 4:30, at the Lambie House. Professor Ruth Atwell, Director of Physical Education for Women in the University, will be the speaker.

The Newcomers Section, of which Mrs. Earl W. Barnhart is chairman, will meet October 20 at 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Robert F. Griggs.

The Bridge Section will meet at the home of its chairman, Mrs. Willard Hayes Yeager, on October 21 at 3 p. m.

Other sections which are in the process of organizing for the year are: Faculty Section, Mrs. John Donaldson, chairman; Dramatics, Mrs. Audley L. Smith, chairman; Interior Decorating, Miss Harriet Garrels, chairman; Nature, Mrs. William E. Chamberlin, chairman.

History Features Meeting

The reading of last year's history by Mrs. Theodore M. Knappen was the feature of the meeting. Mrs. Knappen had prepared a detailed account of Columbian Women's activities and accomplishments, cleverly phrased in rhymed couplet.

The following new members were elected: Mrs. Earl Baldwin McKinley, Miss Clara Hickman, Mrs. William C. Johnstone, Jr., Mrs. Alva C. Wilgus, Mrs. Harold A. Craft, Mrs. Inez Howard, Miss Elizabeth Benson, Mrs. John A. Reed, Mrs. Charles R. Mann, Mrs. Edward A. Krause, Mrs. Mitchell Dreese, Mrs. Edgar Cheighton Higbie, Mrs. Paul Hugh Emmett, Miss Mary Priest, Miss Eleanor Dunnigan, Miss Janeiro Brooks, Miss Dorothy Fields, Miss Anne James, Mrs. Russell Shelk, Mrs. Smith W. Brookhart, Jr., Miss Helen Taylor, Miss Virginia Lada, Miss Margaret Lord, Miss Florence Harrington, Miss Mary Harrington, Miss Margaret Whitzell.

Library Science Division Leads With Thirty-One Per Cent Successful

Names of Columbian College, Junior College, School of Government, and School of Library Science students who made an average grade of "B" or better during the second semester of 1930-31, are below reprinted from the last summer edition of The Hatchet.

In addition, there are given for the first time the honor roll students in the School of Engineering, for the whole year 1930-31, and honor students in the School of Education, for the second semester only.

While Junior College leads with 155 students on the honor roll, this number represents only seven per cent of its total registration of 2,131. The 33 honor students of the School of Library Science represents, on the other hand, 31 per cent of those enrolled in that division.

The following tabulation gives an interesting comparison of scholarship in the six schools listed. Statistics on the remaining schools, in which 2,538 students were enrolled during 1930-31, are not available.

	No. enrolled 1930-31	No. on honor roll	Pct. on honor roll

With fraternity rush week over, things once again settle down to a safe and sane pace. Once more on the corner we shall meet our male friends and be spoken to. For a week all will be quiet and then with women's rushing starting Sunday, another week of tearing here and there will begin.

Kappa Alpha gave the second of its rush dances Saturday, October 10. An especially good Dagmoir band furnished the music.

The Delta Tau Delta dance on Wednesday, October 7, furnished co-eds, rush men, and Delts a pleasant evening of dancing to the strains of the popular Dagmoir band.

Cottonpickers Make Success Of Sigma Nu Dance.

McWilliams furnished excellent music for the Sigma Nu dance, Friday, October 9. At the intermission everyone crowded into the lodge room and dialed the radio to Cab Calloway and his Cottonpickers who made the evening a complete success for music lovers.

Theta Delta Chi entertained its rush men with an informal dance, Friday, October 9.

Phi Sigma Kappa, with Les Calvin's extremely good music, completed its rush season with a most successful dance Saturday night, October 10.

George Washington students by the hundreds attended the Navy-Maryland football game at Griffith Stadium, Saturday, October 10. Some of the ones we remember seeing are: Nance Hall, Edward Hall, Molly Pagan, Babe White, Don Iglehart, Virginia Delbert, and Kathryn Dille.

Attend Racing Meet At Laurel

Doris Skinker and Elizabeth Rose attended the Laurel races Saturday as guests of Mr. J. R. Skinker.

Ruth Warren spent this week-end at Gettysburg College where she attended the dances Friday and Saturday nights.

Judith Steele was entertained by Mrs. Hoover at Rapidan Camp during the last week in September.

Kappa Delta Holds Open House.

Kappa Delta held open house Sunday, October 11, for University professors and their wives, parents of the active members, alumnae members, and members of the sorority.

Kappa Sigma entertained with a second rush dance Saturday, October 10, with the Night Hawks' music.

Mildred Battle and Edith Coombs attended the Navy-William and Mary game and hop.

Many Co-eds Guests At Annapolis.

Kathryn Dille and Jean Kirkwood were among George Washington co-eds who spent Sunday afternoon as guests of midshipmen at Annapolis. Some went sailing on the Chesapeake Bay while others danced to an excellent band at Carvel Hall.

Molly Brinkly and Mary Lou Rawlins went to Penn State this week-end.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon completed their rush activities with a formal banquet at the house on Saturday, October 10.

Columbia Students War On Grammatical Errors Of University Professors

Columbia University students are at last getting back at professors who preach but never practice. And the English department is being attacked by even the lowly freshmen.

The Spectator, student publication, fired the first shot with a printed "black list" of twenty-six faculty members guilty of mixing metaphors, hanging participles, splitting infinitives, and, in general, gaily murdering the King's English.

Showers of letters have since poured into the Spectator office. Eight specific and highly indignant freshmen protested that college was fast robbing them of what education they may possibly have acquired in high school.

The war still rages. Right may be on the student's side, but any faculty that can't keep the fresh properly subdued needs all the might it can possibly collect. They might start by using as their motto, "Don't do as we do; do as we tell you to do."

Wise Reading Saves Time

College students can save seven precious hours a week or thirty-six days a year by wiser reading, according to figures compiled by Professor A. R. Lauer of the psychology department at Iowa State College. When 135 students made an effort, under his direction, to improve their reading rates, the women increased their average from 254 to 327 words a minute, while the men advanced from 252 to 332.

Seven rules were applied in speeding up the reading rates:

1. Glance at the material first to get an idea, illustrations, and tables try to decide what the author is going to say.
2. Make an effort to see phrases rather than words.
3. By no means allow yourself to articulate audibly.
4. Keep your mind on the subject matter.
5. If unfamiliar words are encountered, guess at their meaning from the context, and proceed. Check them and look them up later.
6. Never take notes while you read. This is a time waster. If you want notes, jot them down afterwards.
7. Force yourself to read faster.

WHO'S WHO

Mildred Burnham

Mildred Burnham, one of the most versatile of our co-eds, has shown her ability both in the class room and in extra-curricular activities. Not only is "Midge" an honor student, but she is a leader in many prominent organizations on the campus.

Her career at the University began in 1928, when she started on the road to campus prominence as a member of the Troubadour cast in "Sometime Soon." The next year she was leading lady and co-author of the Troubadour production "Gypsy in Egypt," president of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary scholarship fraternity, and a member of the "Cherry Tree" staff.

In 1930 "Midge" became society editor of the "Cherry Tree," membership chairman of the Y. W. C. A., and founder and president of Phi Pi Epsilon, foreign service sorority. During that year she was elected to Hour Glass and Gamma Eta Zeta, honorary organizations.

This year "Midge" is publicity manager of the Troubadours, second vice president of the Student Council, president of Hourglass, and secretary of Gamma Eta Zeta. Phi Beta Phi is her social sorority.

Legal Sororities Announce Rules for Rushing in 1931; Bids Go Out November 22

Representatives of Phi Delta Delta and Kappa Beta Pi, legal sororities, have announced rushing rules for the 1930-31 rushing season as follows:

(1) The formal rushing period will be held during November. Each organization will give two parties. The date agreed upon are:

November 14 and 22, Kappa Beta Pi; November 15 and 21, Phi Delta Delta.

(2) Bids will be issued after 10:00 p. m. Sunday, November 22, and will be replied to not later than 5:00 p. m., the following Tuesday, November 24.

(3) After the bids are sent, the initiative shall not be taken by the members of either sorority for any social or fraternal contact with the rushes until the answers to the bids have been received.

(4) In order to be eligible a student must have satisfactorily completed at least four hours' work in law in an accredited school, and be carrying at least six hours in George Washington University Law School.

Honor Society Conducts Assembly for Freshmen

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary scholastic sorority, will have a meeting of the program of the freshman college on Wednesday, October 14. The purpose of the meeting is to stimulate the new students to take active interest in their studies so as to become members of this organization. Music will be furnished by Jean Westbrook, who will render a violin solo.

In Memoriam

Special ceremonies were held in the Alpha Delta Theta sorority rooms last Monday evening, when Dr. and Mrs. Charles Thom presented an oil landscape painting to the organization in memory of their daughter, Beatrice Thom, who died June 15, last, after a brief illness.

Have You Been In?

Have any of you been in to visit the "College Corner," a restful nook recently opened by Phillipsborn for the convenience of co-ed shoppers? The minute we heard about it we made a special visit down there, and it certainly did strike our fancy. Speaking of secluded corners, away from the bustle and noise and hurry of the business district, this is the real thing.

A delightful hideaway—no suggestions of the usual store. It's just a comfortable little room in which you can find a chaise longue, on which to stretch your weary limbs, writing table, telephone for your convenience, a bulletin board on which we posted a note to a friend.

Drop in some afternoon while making your shopping tour and enjoy a cup of soothing hot tea, or a leisurely smoke preferred by the charming hostess who is always on hand to welcome you.

Hour Glass Serves Luncheon Honoring Freshman Women

Representatives of Campus Groups Speak on Merits of Activities

A luncheon for freshman women was served by the Hour Glass Society Monday, October 5, in Corcoran Hall 10. Upper classmen were invited to come and bring their little sisters for an entertaining half hour.

While everyone was contentedly munching on salad, potato chips, sandwiches, cakes and coffee, several University women spoke on campus activities. Mildred Burnham, mistress of ceremonies, first introduced Kay McCallum, president of the W. A. A., who spoke on the importance of intramural participation and told how one may become a member of the association.

Kathleen Watkins told the young women about the various clubs around the University. A few reminders are the Glider Club, the Drama Club, the Newman Club, the Episcopal Club, the Modern Poetry Club, Le Club Espanole, the Presbyterian Club, the Dancing Club, and the Troubadours. Catherine Prichard gave a more detailed account of the activity and scope of the Troubadours. Mary Weaver spoke on the Y. W. C. A., Cecile Harrington on The University Hatchet, and Pauline Schaub on the Cherry Tree.

Lastly, Mildred Burnham explained the function and requirements of Hour Glass, honorary scholarship sorority to which new members are elected at the end of the junior year. A 2.5 average, 30 hours of A's and B's is necessary for eligibility.

Reverend Gerhard Lenski To Speak Before Society Of Lutherans on Sunday

The first study group of the Luther Club will meet next Sunday, October 18, in building J-21, at 4 p. m. The Reverend Gerhard Lenski, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church, will speak on "How Christianity Got a Foothold in the Modern World."

Weekly discussions, to which all students are invited, will be held every Sunday afternoon throughout the year. Personal interviews may be arranged with Dr. Mary E. Markley and Dr. C. P. Harry, of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church in America.

On October 25 Rev. Lenski will conduct a discussion on "Christianity—Its Progress in Two Thousand Years"; on November 1 he will speak on "Christianity and the Problem of Nationalism"; and on November 8 the subject will be "Christianity and Russia."

RUSH WEEK AND FASHIONS

Rush week always brings the question, "What shall I wear?" into the foreground. Rushes are many times perplexed. What is more heartbreaking than to feel improperly clothed in a formal afternoon gown while those around are in sportswear?

Sororities plan many different and unique parties, but luncheons, bridges, teas, suppers, formal dinners, and dances are included in every rush program. For each occasion there is a certain kind of dress that should be worn.

Luncheons are for the most part informal, therefore, sports clothes of wool or crepe street dresses are popular. If the luncheon is followed by bridge it is best to wear an afternoon frock, made perhaps of light-weight wool which is not too tailored nor too dressy.

For the teas a good looking satin suit, velvet frock, or a crepe dress is always good. The informal dinners and suppers which follow the teas require velvet or satin. These are not too formal and yet are a happy change from the street and sports frocks selected for luncheon and bridges; however, afternoon frocks are considered good.

Then, for the formal dinner on Saturday evening, and the dances throughout the week an evening dress is correct. For fall, satins, velvets, taffetas, and crepes, are all sponsored. Longer wraps are featured with the formals.

Students Enrolled Represent Forty Foreign Countries

School of Government Attracts Students From Embassies and Legations

Students from forty foreign countries are registered this semester in The George Washington University, according to Professor Alan T. Deibert, adviser to students from foreign countries.

Many of these students are associated with the embassies and legations in Washington and this group, for the most part, is registered in the University's School of Government for the study of international affairs and for training in the conduct of public office. Another large group is brought to Washington by various foreign educational missions. The interest of these students centers in cultural studies or in preparation for the medical or legal professions.

Standing third on the list of American colleges and universities with respect to the number of foreign students registered for the past academic year, the George Washington University has directed special attention to their needs. Two years ago the post of Adviser to Students from Foreign Countries was created in the faculty to insure that young people from diverse cultures should gain the greatest possible benefit from study at the University, both in academic achievement and in understanding of American ideals and institutions.

Established New Course

The language problem, one of the greatest difficulties of the foreign student, has been dealt with through the establishment of a course in English for Foreigners, in which text-book knowledge of English which the student has gained in his own country is supplemented by training of the ear in the oral use of the language.

Professor Deibert this year comes to the post of Adviser to Students from Foreign Countries with a command of languages, and a personal understanding and appreciation of the problems of the student in a foreign land gained through study abroad, which especially fits him to advise foreign students upon academic problems and to counsel them in their individual and group social relations and extra-curricular activities.

The interest of the George Washington University in the education of the student from abroad is a reflex of that focusing upon foreign service training which has resulted from the institution's proximity to the headquarters of government and dedication to George Washington's educational ideal.

Buff and Blue Will Be Colors Of House Floor

Buff and Blue, our glorious University colors, are soon to be flung to the winds on Capitol Hill, or, more exactly, trod under the illustrious feet of the nation's lawmakers.

In plain English, cheerful buff and blue rubber flooring will be laid in the chamber of the House of Representatives for the next session. This will replace the carpets formerly used to muffle the steps of members in "the heat of stamping debate." Its admitted purpose is $10,000 worth of economy, rather than beauty.

Undoubtedly George Washington should be enormously flattered to have its colors used as a penny-saving floor-covering device in such a place.

ing for public service and statesmanship, and the numbers of George Washington University graduates who are in the foreign service of the United States, has given the institution an international character which has been recognized upon a number of occasions in the selection of the University by foreign nations as the instrumentality through which to make recognition of educational America.

Foreign countries represented in the student body of the University are: Argentina, Austria, Australia, British Columbia, Bulgaria, Canada, Canal Zone, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, East Africa, England, France, Germany, Greece, Hawaii, Hungary, Ireland, Japan, Yugoslavia, Lithuania, Mexico, Norway, Nova Scotia, Palestine, Panama, Philippine Islands, Poland, Porto Rico, Portugal, Rumania, Russia, Scotland, Siam, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, and Venezuela.

with President Hoover. The most important will undoubtedly be the financial and banking question. This will have added emphasis because of the revaluation of the world's supply of metallic money.

Which, by the way, brings up the editorial comment upon England's attitude toward the solvency of the United States. The whispering campaign indulged in by his Majesty's loyal subjects cannot peg the value of the pound.

Coupled with bank and farm relief are proposed measures to aid the railroads. Study is being made of a method to raise the market-ability of such securities. Final decisions hinge upon the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the rate increase.

Conditions in the East became worse during the week. Japanese planes dropped bombs on a collection of Chinese and killed about 200, thus adding fire and fuel to an already fiery issue. The attitude of Secretary of State, Stimson, is that war in Manchuria is unavoidable. Acting under authority of the Nine-Power treaty, which guaranteed the territorial integrity of China, Secretary Stimson has had investigations made and notes prepared to the belligerents. The League of Nations, at the request of the Chinese delegate, called a special session to deal with the problem. It will require better handling than that heretofore given if open warfare is to be prevented.

In England, Ramsay MacDonald, between two devils and a deep sea—Liberals, Tories and Laborites—dissolved Parliament and called for a general election October 27. In a nation-wide appeal over the radio he stressed the importance of support for the "national party" and asked for a "doctor's mandate" outside political lines as the only remedy for England's ills. Free trade as opposed to tariff policy was causing the Prime Minister to indulge in a large amount of fancy straddling. All the while Lloyd George sat back holding the pursestrings of the Liberal Party and denounced everything concerned with a tariff.

In Germany, Chancellor Bruening ran himself ragged trying to form a new cabinet which would stand before the opening of the Reichstag. Failing to persuade leading industrialists to enter his folds, he dropped Foreign Minister Curtius and took upon himself the duties of that post. Even this failed to satisfy President Paul Von Hindenburg. The latter created his own puddle of speculation when he invited the unofficial leader of the Fascist group, Hitler, to a conference.

The Chamber of Commerce has proposed a plan for economic relief; American Bankers Association, in convention at Atlantic City, is drafting another; President Green of the American Federation of Labor and his cohorts are denouncing all existing and proposed ones which do not provide immediate employment at good wages for the laboring classes; St. Louis won the World Series; Gandhi is still in London (he has been invited to the United States); and the government is still trying to convict Al Capone.

When Is a Lock Not a Yale Lock?

Harvard University continues to use Yale locks on the doors of her buildings, but the name "Yale" does not appear on the locks. Harvard officials have specified in a recent contract with the makers of Yale locks that the name must be omitted.

Philippine Freedom Is Ably Advocated By Native Attorney

Liberal Club Hears Maoro Baradi Discuss Island Independence at First Meeting

While passing students gazed in wonder, the Liberal Club last Wednesday night heard the most eloquent and impressive speech yet given under its auspices, by the noted Filipino, Attorney Maoro Baradi, who spoke on "Independence for the Philippines." This meeting formally opened the Liberal Club program for the current school year of 1931-32. Mr. Pollock was the chairman.

Mr. Baradi, in the course of his lecture, which held the audience breathless for the entire period, gave innumerable reasons why his native land should be given its complete independence.

The Filipinos, argued Mr. Baradi, are well able to take care of themselves. Their agriculture yields enough food for a population much greater than that which exists there, and if allowed to trade with all nations, manufactured goods could easily be bought from the outside world. As to self-government, the speaker showed that the Filipinos have been ruling themselves for years. Following a military rule, they were given a commission government, and finally were given an autonomous government in 1916.

Cites Arbitrary Rulings

Among the grievances of the Philippines against the American government are that the island people are forced to buy only American goods, which is taxed heavily, while their goods enter the United States duty-free; that no Filipino can be a sailor in the American Merchant Marine; that race hatred and prejudice run high in the States. His talks in this country, said Mr. Baradi, are for the purpose of promoting better understanding between the Filipinos and the Americans.

Menorah Society Opens Eighth Season Thursday

The Menorah Society begins its eighth year of activity at George Washington University at its opening meeting to be held on Thursday, October 15, in Corcoran Hall, W 15, at 8:30 p. m.

Dean Wilbur, honorary member of the organization, and one who is enthusiastic and in accord with Menorah activities, is to be one of the guest speakers of the evening.

Dr. Isidore Herschfield, prominent lawyer of Washington, and authority on immigration and Jewish problems, is to be the other guest speaker. Dr. Herschfield is a leader in National Jewish Affairs and will have something of great interest to offer everyone.

Do not fail to enjoy an interesting evening at the Menorah opening meeting. Everyone is invited.

First Meeting Announced For Engineering Society

The G. W. U. student section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will hold its first meeting of the year on Wednesday October 21. Harvey Boltwood, chairman of the Washington Section of the A. S. M. E. will be the guest speaker. The hour and place of meeting will be found posted in Dean Lapham's office. Richard Radue, last year's chairman of the G. W. U. section and Mr. Lawrence of the mechanical engineering department will be present to greet members and new students.

Sosa Will Perform Animal Drug Study

Student Is Also Preparing Bibliography for Pharmacy

A pharmacognostical study of animal drugs with special reference to those in the United States Pharmacopoeia, the National Formulary, and the publication, "New and Non-official Remedies" is the work with which Gabriel Sosa, student in the George Washington University School of Pharmacy, is at present engaged.

Sosa is also preparing a bibliography explaining the new arrangement of the library of the School of Pharmacy. The bibliography is expected to further simplify the cataloging of books and familiarize the students with the subject matter in the library.

Many new books have been purchased this fall for the Department of Pharmacology and Pharmacognosy which has just entered its first year as a separate department in the School of Pharmacy. These volumes are the latest in their fields. A microscope and many other minor pieces of apparatus have also been added to the equipment of the new department.

The University of Kentucky band will broadcast from station WRC next Saturday morning at 10:30. Their program will close with a medley of the college songs of Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt, Alabama, Washington and Lee, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

Are they as good as when the ruffles came down to the ankles?

GOOD! . . . You bet they are! Maybe the girls are even better. Anyhow, cigarettes are a whole lot better. No doubt about that.

They used to be made by hand—

Now it's machines; no hand but yours ever touches them.

They used to be packed in expensive, high-alutun cardboard boxes—

Now the quality is in the cigarettes.

The U. S. Revenue Tax used to be a penny a package of twenty—

Now it's six cents a package of twenty.

Tobacco used to be dried by air—

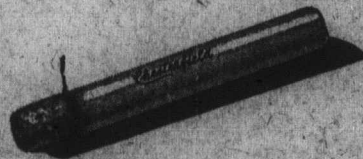

Now Liggett & Myers alone has thirty-five drying machines of the latest type, with a daily capacity of over 2,000,000 pounds—and over four miles of warehouses for tobacco storage.

BETTER—they're miles better! Everything used in the manufacture of Chesterfield cigarettes is the best that money can buy or that Science knows about.

CHESTERFIELD TOBACCO—both Turkish and Domestic—are mild and ripe, the best that money can buy.

AND THE WAY Chesterfield tobaccos are blended and cross-blended is like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco, with greater smoothness, more mildness and a more pleasing aroma—a fragrance and flavor not to be found in any other cigarette.

CHESTERFIELD gives you the benefit of all the world knows about the production of better cigarettes. Nobody smokes a better cigarette than Chesterfield.
